FLIGHT REPORTS

United Kingdom Flight Report by Keith Wilkinson

Delighted to say that squadron co-president Charles Humbles had a great 100th birthday in the UK.

"What a surprise!" he said later. "It was a lovely day."

My wife and I joined members of his family at his home north of London for his centenary celebrations. Alongside him was his wife Joyce who will be 102 later this year. The couple married during the London Blitz and have lived in their current house since the 1950s.

Charles was in good form, laughing a lot and clearly enjoying himself. Just a few days later he was back in hospital, having a new battery for his pacemaker. All went well. One of the highlights of the birthday was his card from The Queen.

"I send my congratulations and best wishes to you on such a special occasion," said the royal card. Charles found time to record some heart-warming video messages for the 458 Squadron Association reunion in Australia. "To everyone in Australia - a very good reunion," said Charles. "And let's hope everyone's in a good position, and no longer got this virus about us."

Luckily, by the time of the birthday all Covid restrictions had been lifted in England. Charles and Joyce had spent many months during the pandemic under Lockdowns with visits only from close family members who brought shopping and helped with cleaning. It was a tough time for them but they got through it stoically. As a present, I gave Charles a large bottle of his favourite gin. He and Joyce like a small G&T every lunchtime. It seems to have done them no harm! In another message, he said: "Best wishes to all in Australia and 458 Squadron, especially to all the people who are associated with the squadron, all the states, and also Roland Orchard...Keith Wilkinson looks after us very well in England. He keeps in touch with me all the time so he knows exactly what's going on with the squadron."

Charles gave a little insight into his time with 458. He said he joined the squadron, then part of Bomber Command at Holme-on-Spalding-Moor in Northern England, in August 1941 when he looked after the Wellington of Australian Wing Commander Mulholland (who was later killed).

"Several times we ran into trouble, especially when it was foggy at Holme-on-Spalding Moor. And I had to run in front of the aircraft with two torches to make sure he kept on the perimeter track. I had to stop the aircraft half-way round the perimeter track because it was too foggy."

In the darkness, the fog and in the torchlight the Wing Commander, still in his pilot's seat, looked angrily at Charles because he objected to being brought to a halt in such a spot.

"When he came down and realised how bad this fog was, he apologised," said Charles.

Our other UK co-president Bill Wake will be 100 this year too. With the help of his friend, Keith Davis, he also recorded some delightful video messages. With a big smile on his face and looking like a man of much younger years, Bill said to everyone Down Under: "Good luck Cobbers!"

He went on: "Shortly after my existence was discovered by your UK flight correspondent Keith Wilkinson, I was elevated from a non-entity to that of a 458 Squadron Association co-president. It is from that exalted position that I send my very best wishes to all members in Australia on the occasion of your forthcoming meeting."

Bill, a wireless operator/air gunner with 458, said he had clear memories of his times with the squadron.

"How could I forget Colonel McKenzie's tailor-made Wimpy. Squadron Leader Orchard - a lovely man who was not too fussy about discipline."

He also spoke of his own pilot Flying Officer "Brush" Downs, who lost his life at the age of 21 - "a Canadian pilot who I had absolute faith in but who sadly died of malaria half-way through his tour."

It was good to see Charles and Bill in such high spirits.

Bill tells me his squadron t-shirt has now arrived from Australia and he is looking forward to wearing it out and about when the weather gets warmer.

The squadron association means a lot to them. Never take our little newsletter for granted. The value of what we do with this publication was brought home to me when one of Charles's relatives said to me on his birthday that he always shows the latest edition to her when she visits and he reads it out. Its arrival through his letterbox is one of his cherished moments.

New South Wales Flight Report by Stephen Bruce & Rob Wilkinson

Dear 458 family,

With much sadness, I would like to inform you that our fellow 458er, Bev Bitmead, passed away at 1.30am 3rd April. As I mentioned at the Reunion, Bev was so disappointed that she couldn't make the Reunion, due to her hospitalisation following a fall. But we were blessed that her children Peter and Jenny (Higgs) could join us at Williamtown, and fly the flag on Bev's behalf, whilst Lesley stayed back in Sydney to keep an eye on Bev. You'll recall that Stephen Bruce announced, at Saturday's Reunion Dinner, that the various 458 Committees had voted unanimously to elect Bev as the Squadron President for Australia. You'll be pleased to know that Jenny visited Bev in hospital last Sunday, with the good news, and Bev was thrilled, and humbled, by that acknowledgement. Apparently, she even told hospital staff and visitors that she was the 458 President!!

So, I'm really glad that she was well aware of her new role in the Squadron, as I feel it was richly deserved, given her unstinting loyalty, commitment and support of all things 458 for many, many years. Bev was widowed, just over 6 years ago, following the death of her husband, Don (Acting Flight Lieutenant Don Bitmead).

Personally, I'm glad that Carolin and I (Rob) were able to spend 15 minutes with Bev, yesterday evening, and I was able to let her know how valued she was, within 458, and how much we all loved her! Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to Jenny, Lesley and Pete, and to Bev's grandchildren and great grandchildren.

May Bev Rest in peace.

ANZAC Day 2022 (Sydney CBD)

Pleased to advise upcoming arrangements for this year's march and our march reunion to be held at Castlereagh Boutique Hotel following our fallout. The RAAF will march off later this year at 11.00am. We should assemble in Castlereagh St. between Hunter St. and King St. at around 10:45am. As usual our position in the line-up will probably change better to just look out for our banner, I would hazard to guess at Martin Place to be halfway in field. It will be great to catch up with everyone after last week's 80th celebrations at Williamstown which was a fabulous event which will live long in our memories honouring the service of our veterans. Please advise of your intention to attend march and /or function following in order that we can cater accordingly.

Vale Tom Hicks

Almost 12 months ago to the day we received an email from Richard Hicks (Tom's son in the UK) informing us that his father was a 458'er and living in Perth, WA. It was with great excitement that I met Tom (and daughter Jane) a few days later at the Swan Care facility at Bentley Park. Tom had just reached the centenary milestone in January and still lived independently. Tom told me a few stories about his time in the 458 Sqn & amongst other postings. One story stood out about CO McKenzie teaching Tom how to "REALLY low fly" in a wellington - quite a funny story and worth a read (Full story on the website! - along with Toms life story)

Deepest condolences to Clare, Jane, Richard, Keith and families
CO McKenzie may have taught you how to low fly, but now it's time to fly high pilot Rest in Peace Tom, it was a pleasure to have met you.

ANZAC Day 2022 (Kings Park WA)

It would appear the Kings Park ANZAC Day service for 2022 will be capped due to the ongoing Covid-19 situation in WA. Kyran Bromilow's request to lay a wreath on behalf of great uncle Kingston Leslie Nobbs (Nobby) & the 458 Sqn may have to wait until 2023. I'm still trying to get the official word Kyran.

held 'under the wings' at Fighterworld Museum adjacent to Williamtown RAAF Air Base on Saturday evening 26th March, 2022. Our host for the dinner was General Manager of Fighterworld, Bernie Nebenfuhr. He and his catering staff served a wonderful 3 course meal. Our MC for the evening was event organiser, the multi-talented Rob Wilkinson. Many heartfelt and emotional speeches were made to honour our brave fathers, grandfathers, great-grandfathers, uncles, great uncles who served with 458 Squadron. One highlight was the announcement by Stephen Bruce of the unanimous vote for Bev Bitmead as Co-President for Australia. Jenny Higgs (nee Bitmead) and Peter Bitmead accepted the nomination on behalf of Bev, who was not well enough to attend. Sadly, Bev passed away a week later.

Hallo family, friends, and family and friends of the Australian airmen of Stalag Luft III.

Yesterday, I was awarded the Australian War Memorial's Bryan Gandevia Prize for Australian military-medical history for my PhD thesis 'Emotions of Captivity: Australian Airmen Prisoners of Stalag Luft III and their Families'.

The judging panel wrote: Rated outstanding by examiners, this work demonstrates a masterful command of the Australian and international literature related to captivity and prisoners of war. Richly researched and well written, its descriptions of life in captivity and its impact is wide-ranging and comprehensive. As well as tackling taboo subjects such as sexuality and suicide, the post-war experience of prisoners is followed to address contemporary understandings of ongoing trauma, including PTSD, moral injury, and intergenerational trauma.

<https://www.awm.gov.au/articles/blog/2021bryan-gandevia-prize>

I am deeply honoured to have won this award.

As many of the POWs' families know, the traumatic residue of European captivity, especially among airmen prisoners, has been little recognised. Through this award, I hope to highlight the wartime, life-long, and intergenerational challenges of captivity.

Thank you all who helped me along the way, to those who shared their stories and archives, and to those who supported me when things got 'tuff'.

best wishes Kristen Alexander

Dear Rob. Thank you for letting us know about Bev. I am sure Dad and Mum would have known her. It was lovely that you were able to visit Bev just before she passed away. It sounds like she was quite lucid in her last week of life, being so appreciative of the honour of being Australian 458 president.

I also wanted to thank you again for all the effort you put into the reunion last weekend. We both enjoyed it very much. I was a little apprehensive initially, not knowing anyone but everyone was so friendly and welcoming. I hope we meet again sometime. I may even be able to interest my brother and I have told our sons they are going to have to be involved in time to come! Cheers for now,

Dear Rob, Just to say how much we enjoyed the dinner and reunion at Fighterworld. You had gone to so much trouble to make it a memorable occasion. We really enjoyed the video of all the men who were in 458 and I found myself with tears as dad's photo went on the screen. It was so generous of the Orchard brothers to donate the wines and their expertise to help the association's reunion. The placemats were excellent and we have 1 for David and Katherine. How clever is your daughter to do that and it will be a great item for our grandson, Xavier, to take to tell his classmates in the future about his wonderful, great grandfather, Tom Ridgway.

I hope you and all the members have a good Anzac Day and dinner after. We will think of you then.

Fondest regards, Dianne

Good morning Rob. A quick email to say thank you so much for the wonderful 458 Reunion and to finally meet. Both Sue and I thoroughly enjoyed ourselves and met up with so many wonderful people. Further, we both commented on how well we all got on and the many laughs we all had. I have downloaded my pictures and will put on a USB and give to Roland when we meet for the Melbourne march on ANZAC Day. Once again, thanks so much for the wonderful organization of this special event. Kind regards, John and Sue.
